

BISHOP SATTERLEE CONFERS DIPLOMAS

Cathedral School for Girls
Is Addressed by Bishop Talbot.

Disappointed at Absence of President's Daughter.

The Rt. Rev. Ethelbert Talbot, bishop of central Pennsylvania, today delivered the commencement address to the graduates of the National Cathedral School for Girls. The Rt. Rev. Henry Yates Satterlee, bishop of Washington, conferred the diplomas, and the exercises, which were held in the picturesque little church of St. Alban, formed the regular church service, in which Bishop Talbot, Bishop Satterlee, Dr. Bratenahl, and other Episcopal clergymen participated.

Held at St. Alban's.
The ceremonies today were unusually impressive and pretty. It is the first time in the history of the school that the commencement exercises have been held in St. Alban's Church, and the eighteen graduates, in their white caps and gowns, leading the entire school, similarly attired, formed a beautiful picture. The procession formed in the school building, and led across the campus into the little brown church, where the services were immediately begun. In his address to the graduates, Bishop Talbot held up to them the opportunities that would confront them upon their entry either into the world or into other educational institutions, and paid a high tribute to the history of the school which recounts the success of many of its former pupils.

President's Daughter Absent.
Much disappointment was felt both by the faculty and students that Miss Ethel Roosevelt, daughter of the President, was not in Washington to participate in the commencement exercises. Last year Miss Roosevelt was one of the most attractive girls in the class, and the commencement exercises were made notable by the presence of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, the former making the commencement address. Miss Ethel is at Oyster Bay.

At the conclusion of the church services this morning the student faculty and student body marched across the campus to the school, where a reception was held. The graduates were Marie Antoinette, Carl Louise Bushby, Mary Heard Chew, Helen Durbin Church, all of this city; Marie Louise, Farmington, N. Y.; Madeleine Carey, Follens, N. Y.; N. Y.; Louise Gell, of Stamford, Conn.; Helen Scott Johnston, of Terre Haute, Ind.; Elizabeth, of Cambridge, N. Y.; Mary of Lincoln, Iowa; Olivia Matthews, of Glendale, Ohio; Elsie Rathbone, of Parkersburg, W. Va.; Katharine Doty Peoples, of Greensburg, Pa.; Marguerite Nelson Taylor, of Greensburg, Pa.; Marguerite Nelson Taylor, of Belvidere, N. Y.; Margaret, of Liverpool, Ohio; Kathryn Van Vleet Townsend, of New York; Lella Wittier, of Seattle, Wash.; Catherine Woodward, of this city, and Mildred D. Plummer.

Miss Church Gets Flag.
A pretty ceremony was held yesterday in the Cathedral Church, when the flag which has flown over the school during the past year was presented by Gen. John M. Wilson to Miss Helen Durbin Church, of Washington, for having attained the highest average in studies during the year. The entire school and corps of teachers marched out to the flag staff, accompanied by the Marine Band, and the formal ceremonies of presenting the flag to Miss Church, and hoisting of the new flag were pretty features of the day.

PYTHIAN DIGNITARIES GIVEN A RECEPTION

Members of the several lodges Knights of Pythias paid honors last night to Maj. Gen. A. J. Stobart, of St. Paul, Minn., head of the uniform rank; Gen. Fred Wheaton, of Minnesota, and Edward Dunn, of Washington, past supreme chancellor, at Pythian Temple. Each of the officers spoke. They are en route to the Jamestown Exposition, where the uniform rank national convention meets.

UNDRAPED VENUS STATUE REJECTED BY KANSANS

KANSAS CITY, June 5.—A duplicate of the statue Venus Cenexis reclining, the gift of former State Senator William J. Buchen, and intended for the public library, was rejected by the school board of Kansas City, because of its lack of drapery. The statue, valued at several hundred dollars, was recently purchased by Mr. Buchen in Rome.

NAVY DESERTERS ESCAPE FROM PETERSBURG, VA.

PETERSBURG, Va., June 5.—Three sailors—R. E. Johnson, W. A. Keeling, and R. B. K. who were arrested here several days ago on suspicion of being deserters from the United States Navy, and who were being held for the naval authorities, broke out of jail by cutting their way through the wall, and then letting themselves down with blankets tied together to form a rope.
